COVID's effect on Influencer Marketing & Event Sector:

With the past year being consumed by a global pandemic, the infamous COVID-19, influencer marketing sector has gone through inevitable changes.

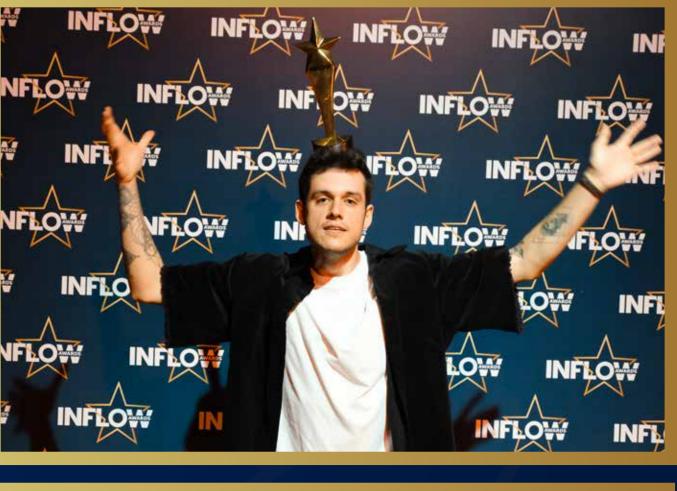

From travel influencers being stuck in one place to food influencers taking the spotlight, these changes also projected themselves in INFLOW Awards applications.

For the first time in its history, INFLOW Network created a digital event rather than a physical one for the safety & health of all the attendants.

After creating 2 prestigious events with amazing performances & crowds, INFLOW Awards'20 was created to be watched online on the longest night of the year, 21st of December.

Awards'20 General Report Onedio:

By creating an online event, INFLOW Awards reached a record amount of 35,000 people in one stream. The full video is still available on Onedio YouTube channel, and is expected to pass 1M views.

Awards'20 General Report Odeabank Fair Tales:

INFLOW Awards adopts a social responsibility theme every year to put a light on serious issues in the society. This year along with its innovative & dynamic partner Odeabank, INFLOW Awards shed a light on the equality between genders through children's tales.

We as society are grown with tales as old as time that teaches us the inequality between genders, and this idea of one gender being less than the other should be changed from the very first ages of a human. With Odeabank's innovative approach, children's tales were changed to highlight the equality of both genders & change the narrative.
